

Pan Am, TWA Airlines Bid for Merger

By ROGER LANP
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (KAP)—Pan American World Airways and Trans World Airlines bid today for government approval of merger into a globe-girdling, $1.2-billion system.

The proposal, if approved, would alter U.S. international policy by eliminating competition between American carriers on the busy North Atlantic route where 16 foreign airlines have claimed about two-thirds of the traffic.

The merger agreement, in the making nearly a year, was signed Thursday by directors of Pan Am and TWA. It was to be filed today with the Civil Aeronautics Board.

CAB approval is required, plus that of President Kennedy because of the international ramifications.

The combine would embrace 80,000 system-route miles in the U.S. and abroad, would serve 169 cities, and would have nearly 44,000 employees.

In revenues and passengers carried, it would replace United Airlines as the nation's largest carrier and would surpass even the proposed combination of American and Eastern Airlines, now second and fourth-ranking.

A CAB examiner three weeks ago recommended rejection of the American-Eastern merger, involving domestic routes almost exclusively, on monopoly grounds.

The TWA-Pan Am plan added to a rash of merger proposals in the air, railroad and highway segments of public transportation, several of them based on financial distress.

In many of these unions have objected, fearing loss of jobs.

A new operating company proposed in the agreement to run both Pan Am and TWA aircraft and properties would be headed by Juan L. Trippe, Pan Am president. The No. 2 position would go to Charles C. Tillinghast Jr., president of TWA.

The complicated plan calls for the new company, Pan American World Airlines, to issue 18,020,218 shares of common stock.

Of the total 6,674, 155 would be exchanged on a one-for-one basis for present TWA shares, and 11,346,063 would be turned over on a 1.7-for-1 ratio to the existing Pan Am.

The present Pan Am would retain certain assets, including $6.5 million in cash and 63,988 shares of National Airlines stock, and continue as a holding company, with control over the new operating concern.

The Trippe-Tillinghast statement made no mention of Howard R. Hughes, the financier who owns 78 per cent of TWA stock but who two years ago surrendered his voting rights to a panel of trustees in a $165-million TWA borrowing deal.

Hughes would come out with 29

Opposition to Gas Tax Hike

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Executive Committee of the Arkansas Automobile Club stated its opposition Thursday to a proposal to raise the state gasoline tax by one cent a gallon to finance construction of rural roads.

The committee said the boost would give Arkansas the highest tax in the nation. Arkansas now collects 6 1/2 on state gallon.

It said 16 states now have a tax of seven cents a gallon.

Compromise in Retirement For Teachers

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The first steps toward hammering out a compromise on teacher retirement apparently were taken at a closed meeting attended Thursday by Gov. Orval E. Faubus, Arkansas Education Association leaders and key legislators.

The only comment made for publication after the meeting was made by AEA President Hays Gibson who said, "We buried the hatchet."

Newsmen found an air of cordiality when they were admitted after the meeting ended. Faubus was heard to exchange a pleasant word with Forest Rozzell, AEA executive secretary, and one of his leading foes in recent years.

The AEA and Faubus have been at odds for several years. Their last battle came in the 1961 Legislature over the amount the state should contribute to the Teacher Retirement System each year.

Faubus wanted the figure set at $7.6 million. The AEA wanted about $12 million. Faubus won after a bitter fight.

This year, the AEA, working through the state Education Department, asked for $12.5 million for retirement during the 1963-65 biennium. Faubus made no firm suggestion but tossed out the figure of $4 million a year.

The Legislative Council set an amount of $4.5 million a year into the Education Department's budget and named Rep. L. H. Autry of Mississippi County to work out a compromise between the governor and the AEA.

Thursday's meeting was set up by Autry who is a school official at Burdette in private life.

No contribution figure was discussed at the meeting, according to reports. This apparently will be left to negotiation between Faubus and the Teacher Retirement System Board. Gibson is board chairman.

The meeting was closed at the suggestion of State Sen. Clarence Bell of Parkin who said he acted as Faubus' request.

Two Killed in Harrison Wreck

HARRISON, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Joyce Wilson, 20, of Harrison and Tommy Smalley, 15, of Berryville were killed Thursday in a three-car collision on rain-slick Highway 65 about three miles north of Harrison.

State Police said cars driven by Mrs. Wilson, Smalley's father, Fred Smalley, 48, and C. E. McNair of Alpena collided.

The elder Smalley suffered cuts and rib fractures. He was hospitalized at Harrison. McNair was not seriously injured.

The Seaboard Air Line Railroad's Miami-to-New York "Silver Star," traveling 70 to 80 m.p.h., and a tractor-trailer loaded with oranges met just before 7 p.m., Thursday a mile northwest of Okeechobee.

Bud Sparkman of Okeechobee said, "I was waiting at the crossing in my Jeep. The tractor-trailer was coming toward me and slowed as if it was going to stop. But it didn't. It just kept right on creeping across."

The diesel was blowing its horn. It hit the cab. It was a horrible mess."

Both locomotives and seven of the train's 11 cars jumped the rails. The engines toppled over and the derailed coaches — some sheered off their wheels — came to rest at tipsy angles. A large portion of track was torn up.

The lead locomotive, in which two trainmen died, blazed for two hours. Firemen kept the diesel oil-fueled flames from spreading.

The dead were identified as H.O. Slaughter, 50, the train's baggage master, of Wildwood; William Bell, 50, of Tampa, its fireman; and O. B. Jones, 38, of Haines City, driver of the truck.

Seventeen persons, most of them train passengers bound north for Christmas, were admitted to the 65-bed Okeechobee general hospital.

Five others were checked over or treated for minor injuries at doctors' offices.

Among the train's passengers were a dozen Miami Military Academy cadets heading home for Christmas. Several fellow passengers said they wouldn't have been able to get out of the wreck without help from the lads, aged 12 to 17.

Ambulances and fire apparatus rushed from Sebring, Fort Pierce and Vero Beach, all about 40 miles distant, to the community of 7,000 on Lake Okeechobee's north shore in south central Florida. Okeechobee is about 100 miles north of Miami.

Three Killed in a Truck Train Wreck

OKEECHOBEE, Fla. (AP) — A collision between a passenger train and a truck wrecked the train and demolished the truck, killing three persons and crowding this little community's hospital with injured.

Left-Wingers in Front in Dominican

SANTA DOMINGO (AP) — The left-leaning Dominican Revolutionary party surged into an impressive early lead today in unofficial returns from the Dominican Republic's first free election in 34 years.

Returns compiled by independent newspapers and radio stations showed reform-minded Juan Bosch running far in front of Dr. Viriato A. Fiallo of the conservative National Civic Union in the race for president.

The morning newspaper El Caribe said the conservatives scored victories in the key Cibo Valley region but they were not expected to be enough to overcome the Revolutionary party's heavy vote in Santo Domingo and its environs.

El Caribe reported that in the federal district, where one-tenth of the national vote is concentrated, Bosch was running about 2 to 1 ahead with 174,810 votes to 88,595 for Fiallo.

While unofficial returns showed the trend favorable to the Revolutionary party, there was no recent barometer upon which observers could make definite predictions of the outcome.

The British will furnish their own Polaris warheads.

Both the United States and Britain placed one condition on commitment of nuclear forces to NATO. The two countries reserved the right to employ independently bombers and Polaris submarines assigned to NATO, in any case involving "supreme national interests."

The agreement represented a long step toward the solution of two problems which have plagued the two countries for many months:

—To give Britain an acceptable substitute for the now discarded Skybolt nuclear missile which would have been launched from Britain's Vulcan bombers. Macmillan insisted that Britain need not preserve her status as a front-rank world power.

—It marked a first step toward possible resolution of the problem of Western European nations developing independent nuclear forces. The Nassau agreement provides a framework under which France, Britain and other Western Allies can pool their nuclear punch under common direction.

A secondary feature of the agreement was a resolution that both leaders are of one mind "on the importance of increasing the effectiveness of their conventional forces on a worldwide basis."

The agreement, as announced, was one of three ideas discussed by the British and American leaders in their talks at secluded Lyford Cay.

Initially, President Kennedy proposed that both countries should share the cost of completing development of Skybolt—estimated at 100 million each. Under this plan, Britain would have been free to order an unlimited number of Skybolts, once the missile was perfected.

Macmillan rejected the Skybolt plan. It was understood he was leery of putting Skybolt in the British arsenal because nobody knew with certainty what the ultimate cost might be or whether an effective Skybolt could be developed.

The President also offered Britain the Hounddog, a relatively short-range air-to-ground missile. Macmillan and his advisers did not want Hounddog because of technical difficulties in adapting it to British use.

The communique on the agreement said Kennedy and Macmillan assessed the significance of the agreement in this way: "In strategic terms, this defense

Polaris Missiles to Be Placed on All British Subs

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan announced today a historic decision to create at once a nuclear force and put Polaris-armed British submarines in action under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization banner by 1970.

The far-reaching agreement to give the Western alliance a broadened nuclear shield takes effect in two stages:

—The United States and Britain agreed to set aside immediately an undisclosed segment of their bomber forces for use by NATO which would decide the emergency missions and targets.

—The United States agreed to provide Britain with intermediate-range Polaris missiles—minus warheads—for use on British submarines.

These forces will be committed to the new multinational NATO nuclear force and the United States will assign to NATO one Polaris-armed submarine for each similar undersea craft equipped by the British.

Announcement of the Nassau agreement followed four days of talks between the two leaders. Both considered the document the most important and portentous product of any of their six meetings. It was believed France already has been invited to accept Polaris weapons under the same set of conditions.

No French decision has been reached, however.

The earliest date at which Britain could begin buying American-made Polaris missiles would be 1970, since no especially-equipped submarines could be built before then. Britain will pay for all missiles supplied but will not share U.S. development costs of $2.5 billion.

The British will furnish their own Polaris warheads.

Both the United States and Britain placed one condition on commitment of nuclear forces to NATO. The two countries reserved the right to employ independently bombers and Polaris submarines assigned to NATO, in any case involving "supreme national interests."

SHOULD TEEN-AGER TATTLE ON FATHER?

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKIN

Dear Helen: I am a 15-year-old girl, the oldest of five children. Our father is having an affair with a woman. He's very severe, won't let me date, never allows me to attend dances or games or even go to choir rehearsal unless an adult accompanies me. Should I tell mother about this affair with the other woman? — Frustrated Teen-ager

Dear Frustrated: Do you know what you're talking about? There's a strong hint of reprisal in your letter; the implication being that you'll hit back at your father because he won't let you solo date. That's bad.

The wisest thing for you to do is say nothing to your mother about the other woman. Maybe she knows; maybe she doesn't. Let your parents work out their own problems, otherwise either your mother, or father, or both are sure to be offended; especially if your suspicions aren't well-founded.

Dear Helen: My husband literally left me and our 2-year-old baby on my aunt's doorstep a year ago. She feeds and shelters us and never once lets us forget, being fierce-tempered and violent in speech.

During the day we stay at my mother's. I can't live with her because Daddy is real sick.

Mother and this angry aunt teach school. The child and I, with this aunt, another old-maid aunt unmarried uncle, all live in this one house.

When grandmother died the angry aunt moved in to do the cooking and took over. She screams and yells at us all so bad that her husband fled to the home of another woman.
We have alternately tried reasoning with her, treating her kindly and laying down the law, but it does no good. With this and my own troubles, I'm a nervous wreck. The reason I don't work is, I didn't finish school and in six months I am to take the entrance exam over again. I took it not long ago but lacked one point of passing. This is a cry for help! —Despairing
Dear Despairing: Don't let the tantrums of your aunt get you down. When she starts screaming, pick up baby and walk out, even if it's only to the corner. The others should do the same thing.
Lack of an audience is the best temper-deflator going. Many irascible people are really fine at heart, as your aunt proved herself to be when she took in you and your child. Her difficulty is lack of emotional control. This stems from a physical or mental deficiency. Explain the situation to your doctor and ask his help.
With Christmas in the offing, bring a little sunshine into the picture on this day when "Peace on earth, good will to men," is the keynote. Tell your aunt and all those under the same roof with you, that it is their duty to replace strife with harmony at this season. If done with love in your own heart, they'll respond.

Many Records Made, Few Make Money

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Some 12,000 to 14,000 new long-playing phonograph recordings are turned out each year in America.
"But only about 50 make any real money," said Enoch Light, the musical millionaire.
Light is managing director of one of 4,000 firms fighting in an overcrowded field for the privilege of reaching the American ear—and the American pocket-book.

A placid-looking, pipe-smoking man of middle age, Light has led a spectacular roller-coaster career in a business in which the unofficial slogan is: "Hold on to your hat at all times."
At 19 he left college to become the pit conductor for a Broadway show in 1928.

By 1940 he had become known as the "Ambassador of Jazz" in Europe, and he was leader of one of the big bands.
Then he was involved in an automobile accident that laid him up for a year and a half.

"When I finally recovered, I found that the parade had passed me by. The heyday of the big bands was drawing to a close, and I realized I had to try something new."

Enoch centered the recording field and learned the business from the ground up.

There followed 10 lean, arduous years, then in '54 Light founded his own firm, and in 59 sold it for more than $2 million to ABC Paramount, which retained him as directing head.

"It's all pretty crazy, isn't it?" he asked quietly, puffing on his pipe.

After my accident came the desperate days—week after week when I earned nothing. From the time I was 35 until I was 44 I was in danger of starving.
"Then, in another five years or so, I was a millionaire. It is crazy!

"But once you go through a bad period in life you never get over the fear. Today I still can't bear to waste money or food."
Light now feels his years of ordeal well worth all the personal hardship he endured.
"They taught me to work hard and to respect work," he said.
"Success isn't a matter of being cute or clever. It's a matter of worry, integrity, responsibility and doing your very best. It sounds corny, but it's true."
"The only secret lies in believing in what you are trying to do, and then putting more time and effort into doing it than the other fellow does."

The Arkansas County Court-house at DeWitt has some records of Arkansas Civil proceedings dating back to 1803.

RALEY'S STYLE SHOPPE

CHATTER

By BILL RALEY

The glowing countenance of Children . . . the friendliness Of strangers on the street . . . Men and women rushing along With last-minute purchases, Mumbling to themselves . . . Strolling Carolers singing The old familiar tunes . . . The smell of pine and the Red buds of holly . . . Laughter and shouting . . . The sadness and tears . . . All of it together means But one thing . . . it is Christmas Eve!

From now until doomsday There will be speculation As to what it is all about. Deep in our hearts, we know it is the time to remember and let the two Commandments left by the One whose birthday we Honor, take effect: "Love God, who is everything And Everywhere, and love Thy neighbor as thyself." If, for only one day, Twenty-four little hours, We come a little closer to This, we will find what the World is seeking . . . peace.

We, at Raley's Style Shoppe, have Enjoyed serving you this Christmas season; it has Been a privilege and a Pleasure. We wish to thank You from way down deep for The confidence you have Placed in us and our Merchandise.

Just like everyone else, we Are already making plans for Next Christmas. We would Like to have a sound truck . . . Just think of the fun we Could have riding around The community giving a Special greeting to every- One! You could listen to Our chatter with no commercial at all.

You would hear all of us at Raley's Style Shoppe shouting At the tops of our voices . . . Merry Christmas to all and To all a good night!

Missouri and Tech Open Up Bowl Season

By JIM BECKER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Missouri today had a decision over Georgia Tech, its Bluebonnet Bowl opponent, by the narrow margin that is expected to separate the two 4-1 tie teams after their football game Saturday at Rice Stadium in Houston.

The Tigers of the Big Eight Conference beat the Rambling Wreckers of the Southeastern Conference to Houston by 20 minutes Thursday as their chartered planes converged on the game site.

They aren't expected to be that far apart Saturday, Missouri, with a 7-1-2 season, gave up an average of only 5.2 points per game. Tech (7-2-1) was almost as stingy.

The Bluebonnet is the first of the big crowd team games on the past season slate. Two other bowl games are on the Saturday card, the Tangerine Bowl (Miami of Ohio vs. Houston) at Jacksonville, Fla., and the North-South game at Miami.

Some 60,000 are expected at Houston, 50,000 at Miami and 15,000 at Jacksonville. The Bluebonnet will be televised by CBS, starting at 3 p. m. EST., and the North-South at 3:30 p. m. by ABC.

The weekend is a warmup for the packed year-end schedule ahead that includes:

Dec. 30: National Football State vs. Ohio U. at El Paso, Fla.; East-West Shrine Game at San Francisco; Blue-Gray at Montgomery, Ala.; All-American Bowl (Major college stars vs. Small college stars) at Tucson, Ariz.

Dec. 30: National Football League championship game between Green Bay Packers and New York Giants at New York.

Dec. 31: Sun Bowl (West Texas State vs. Ohio U.) at El Paso, Tex.

Jan. 1: Rose Bowl (Southern California vs. Wisconsin) at Pasadena; Sugar Bowl (Arkansas vs. Mississippi) at New Orleans; Cotton Bowl (Texas vs. Louisiana State) at Dallas; and Orange Bowl (Oklahoma vs. Alabama) at Miami.

National television will carry the Gator Bowl, East-West, Blue-Gray, NFL playoff and the four big New Year's Day games.

Both Georgia Tech coach Bobby Dodd and Missouri coach Dan Devine said they expected a defensive battle in the fourth Bluebonnet battle.

The story probably will be different in the North-South game, in the Orange Bowl.

The South is crippled by injuries to top running backs Nick Ryder of Miami and Bobby Parnell of Florida A&M, a 9.3 second man in the 100.

The North has a bigger team, directed by Jerry Gross of Detroit and Pat McCarthy of Holy Cross at quarterback, with Bobby Bell of Minnesota and Dave Behrman of Michigan State in the line.

The Tangerine Bowl has got Michigan State in the line.

Odds makers Are Picking the Oilers

HOUSTON (AP) — The odds-makers say the Houston Oilers are a touchdown favorite for Sunday's American Football League championship game but statistics on the two regular season games with the Dallas Texans indicate the game should be a toss-up.

The Oilers and Texans split the games of Oct. 28 and Nov. 4 with Dallas holding only a 27-yard edge on rushing and Houston leading in passes by only 11 yards.

The biggest difference in the statistics for the two games finds Dallas with seven pass interceptions. Houston had three. Six of the Dallas interceptions came on Oct. 28 when the Texans ran over the Oilers, 31-7.

Six of the Dallas steals also came off George Blanda, who had 42 of his passes intercepted this year compared to only 22 last season when he was the league's Player of the Year.

The interceptions may have erased part of the glamor but Pop Ivy, the Oilers coach, is among those saying Blanda is the man who makes the Oilers click.

Blanda has ignored his interceptions and pulled the Oilers from behind six times this season.

Blanda's record in the two regular season games with the Texans was surpassed by Len Dawson, Dallas' league-leading passer.

Dawson completed 31 of 47 passes for 385 yards and three touchdowns. Blanda completed 21 of 37 for 298 yards and two touchdowns. Blanda sat on the bench part of the Oct. 28 game.

Charlie Tolar, the first Oilers runner to gain more than 1,000 yards, had a good day with 104 yards in Dallas Nov. 4 when Houston won 14-6, but was limited to 43 yards in the Oct. 28 game.

Tennessee Team Downs Arkansas

MARTIN, Tenn. (AP) — Tennessee Martin Branch pulled away in the second half Thursday night to defeat Arkansas College 63-30 in the first of a two-game basketball series.

The Vols had only a two-point edge at halftime, 47-45, but roared ahead after intermission with all five starters scoring in double figures.

Larry Powers led the scoring parade for UTMB with 19 points, but Arkansas College's Bill Baxter was high for the night with 20.

The second game of the series will be played here tonight.

Question Is Who Can Stop Cincinnati?

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Almost everyone agrees that Cincinnati's basketball winning streak now at 25 games, eventually must end.

The question remains: Who's to do it?

Dayton made a valiant effort Thursday night, playing a slow deliberate game in an effort to control the Bearcat scoring punch. When it was over, the Flyers had been shot down 44-37.

It was the seventh notch of the season for Coach Ed Jucker's team, ranked first in the nation and shooting for a third straight NCAA title. Their scoring output, however, was the lowest for the Bearcats since a 57-40 loss to St. Louis two seasons ago.

In some of the other major action on a relatively light schedule, Bradley won its sixth of the season 76-65 over South Carolina, UCLA beat Northwestern 70-63, Missouri came from behind and clipped Tennessee 54-47, Southern Methodist whipped Minnesota 100-60 and St. Mary's of California scored a 94-71 rout over Creighton.

Dayton clamped a lid on Ron Bonham, Cincinnati's top scorer and trailed the sluggish Bearcats by a single point, 18-17, at the half.

Cincinnati didn't take a solid lead until late in the game when George Wilson blocked a Dayton field goal try and then scored two quick baskets.

Bonham was held to eight points, but Tom Thacker broke through for 21, leading both teams. He got all but even of Cincinnati's first half points as the Bearcats had to struggle to stay even.

Missouri, trailing by as many as 12 points in the second half, came from behind in the closing minutes and stalled out the victory over Tennessee. Don Early hit six points in the last 90 seconds.

In some of the other major results, New Mexico topped Colorado State 54-46, Detroit edged touring San Jose State 82-76 in overtime, Alabama romped over Richmond 72-56, Utah State beat Iowa State 87-52, Syracuse nipped Rochester 60-58, Santa Clara downed Loyola of New Orleans 74-53, Idaho spilled Washington State 94-57, and Washington defeated Montana 59-50.

White Jerseys for Porkers Regardless

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks haven't won a bowl game in white jerseys, but that's what they'll be wearing when they play Mississippi in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans Jan. 1.

"We had no choice," George Cole, athletic director, said Thursday.

He said the Sugar Bowl designates the Southeastern Conference team as the home team.

The Porkers wore red when they whipped Georgia Tech 14-7 in the 1960 Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., and wore red when they topped William & Mary 21-19 in the 1948 Dixie Bowl at Birmingham, Ala.

Arkansas wore white in losing to Duke 7-6 in the 1961 Cotton Bowl at Dallas and in losing 10-3 to Alabama's national champions in the Sugar Bowl last year.

The Hogs lost one bowl game in red jerseys—to Georgia Tech in the 1955 Cotton Bowl (14-6). Arkansas wore red in two bowl games which ended in ties—a 7-7 decision against Centenary in the 1934 Dixie Classic at Dallas, and a scoreless tie against Louisiana State in the 1947 Cotton Bowl.

AM&N Loses to Fort Hays Team

HAYS, Kan. (AP) — Fort Hays State broke open a tie game with yards, had a good day with 104 yards in Dallas Nov. 4 when Houston won 14-6, but was limited to 43 yards in the Oct. 28 game.

Bobkittens Blasted in Tourney Play

By CARTER HARDAGE

Thursday afternoon in the Texasarkana tournament, Hope's Bobkittens were really walloped by Liberty Eylau for a 35-14 score. The Bobkittens really had a rough time for their first game in the tournament.

Liberty Eylau took an early lead of 6-4 at the end of the first quarter, and widened the gap to 16-7 at the half. At the end of the third quarter the Bobkittens were even further behind at 25-9 and the game ended at 35-14, Liberty Eylau's favor.

Ingram was high scorer for Hope with 8. Parris, Ramsey, and Watkins scored 2 each. Mitchell scored 16 for the opposition.

Today the Bobkittens go against the loser of the Ashdown-Jefferson Avenue (Texarkana) game in a consolation game.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Approval of a $24,000 interest-free loan to help Searcy, Ark., improve its water system was announced Thursday by the Community Facilities Administration.

Teachers Take Charge Quickly

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — Arkansas State Teachers took charge in the first half and beat Nicholls State College 74-66 in the opener of a basketball double-header Thursday night.

East Texas State whipped McNeese State 47-44 in the after-piece.

ASTC overcame an early Nicholls lead and was ahead 37-33 at halftime. Freddie White paced the Bears with 18 points.

The Novaculite Uplift of Ouachita Mountains of Arkansas contains a number of rare and valuable minerals.

The Real Meaning of Christmas

There is a better thing than the observance of Christmas day, and that is, keeping Christmas.

Are you willing to forget what you have done for other people, and to remember what other people have done for you; to ignore what the world owes you, and to think what you owe the world; . . . to see that your fellow-men are just as real as you are, and to try to look behind their faces to their hearts, hungry for joy; . . . to close your book of complaints against the management of the universe, and look around for a place where you can sow a few seeds of happiness — are you willing to do these things, even for a day? Then you can keep Christmas.

Are you willing to stoop down and consider the needs and the desires of little children; to remember the weaknesses and loneliness of people who are growing old; to stop asking how much your friends love you, and ask yourself whether you love them; to trim your lamp so that it will give more light and less smoke, and to carry it in front so that your shadow will fall behind you; . . .

Are you willing to believe that love is the strongest thing in the world — stronger than hate, stronger than evil, stronger than death — and that the blessed life which began in Bethlehem nineteen hundred years ago is the image and brightness of the Eternal Love? Then you can keep Christmas.

And if you keep it for a day, why not always?

But you can never keep it alone.

Fat Turkeys Going at Low Prices

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fat turkeys with lean price tags are a welcome supermarket feature this weekend as housewives do their Christmas dinner shopping.

Prices aren't quite as low as last Christmas' record, but heavy storage stocks and another large crop have kept prices at bargain level.

In the New York area, for example, one national chain is selling 10 to 16 pound birds at 39 cents a pound.

In the Midwest, prices are running about 37 to 40 cents a pound. For those who lean to smaller poultry, baking hens, roasting chickens, ducks and geese are widely featured.

Many markets are also featuring smoked hams for the holidays. One chain is quoting them at 39 cents a pound for butt ends in its New York outlets.

Other pork attractions this weekend include chops, loins, sausage and bacon.

Health of Dollar, Pound on Schedule

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The health of the American dollar and the British pound will be on the agenda in the Bahamas along with the Skybolt missile and the Congo.

Protection of both currencies is involved in many of the issues that President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will be discussing.

Such things as the European Common Market and its relation to applicant Great Britain and friendly competitor United States and the upcoming American budget which the President is putting into final form under the anxious eyes of much of Europe—are tied to the protection of the two currencies to which a great part of the world ties its fiscal affairs.

And neither the dollar nor the pound is out of the woods today. The quietness of the free market for gold and the pleasant absence of pressure on these currencies at the moment could change. And roasts, selling widely at 70-80 cents a pound, round roasts and sirloin and porterhouse steaks.

Eggs, cheese, canned Maine sardines, fish sticks and fish portions are protein items carrying attractive price tags this weekend to help balance budgets depleted by holiday dinners.

Among side dishes, canned cranberries are sale priced in many stores after a large crop. Mushrooms are relatively low, and other vegetables in good supply for the special dinner include artichokes, yams and head lettuce.

Basic vegetables reasonably priced include potatoes, broccoli, cabbage, carrots and onions.

Prices have begun to climb on some of the more tender vegetables caught by the Florida freeze. These include beans, sweetcorn, peppers, cucumbers and tomatoes.

Fruit prices are also beginning to feel the effect of the Florida weather, but most markets still offer the makings for festive fruit bowls at reasonable prices. Attractions include oranges, apples, limes, avocados, grapes and pears.

Water Refinancing Requests Made

HELENA, Ark. (AP)—A Negro was killed early today when the car in which he was riding was struck by a Missouri-Pacific Railroad crew truck 11 miles west of Helena at the junction of Highways 1, 6 and 85.

Police said Eddie Williams Jr., 29, of Coffee Creek, Ark., was killed instantly. Two other persons, including the truck driver, escaped with minor injuries.

both leaders know it.

The dikes which the big financial nations of the West have raised against another flash flood of monetary speculation can hold up to a point. It will be part of the task of the U.S. and British policy makers to see that nothing encourages too high a flood in the months ahead.

The British are interested in American tax-cutting plans. If they spur the U.S. economy, Britain its Commonwealth partners, and the Common Market countries hope to sell more goods and materials here. If the tax cuts raise the federal budget deficit too high, conservative Britons fear this might weaken the dollar in the world money markets. And any pronounced weakness of the dollar could be a disease that would spread quickly to the British pound.

The Common Market is much on the minds of Kennedy and Macmillan these days. Britain's application to join the trading bloc of six West European nations is hotly debated both on the island and on the Continent.

The United States' involvement is deep. Washington has encouraged the Common Market and would like to see Britain join.

But it is keenly aware of the competition already posed by the trading bloc and the bigger rivalry in the years just ahead. It was mainly because of this rise of an industrial complex and consumer market equal to America's that the Congress gave the President, unprecedented powers to bargain on tariffs, quotas and other trade barriers.

This bargaining is likely to cover most of 1963 and easily could go over into 1964. It will be a prime issue both in the United States and in Britain. And if the results are trade gains for both countries that would go a long way toward insuring the health of the dollar and the pound.

U.S. Has a New Type of Snobbery

By PHYLLIS BATTELL
NEW YORK—There's a new type of snobbery in America. A shirtless, cuffless, tieless type of snobbery.
"People don't want to dress up anymore," Oike Romanoff said it, mourning for dying elegance and his famous dying restaurant. Tonight he will hold a fancy-dress wake for "Romanoff's," in Beverly Hills, once his best-dressed bistro for better-dressed movie stars, now a losing operation because sartorial splendor has gone out of style.

Odd, isn't it, that in this age of relative affluence, when most middle-class people can easily afford an evening dress or a tux they decline to buy them—or at least to wear them. The festive, formal night out—so lovely and exciting when times were tougher—has all but been abandoned. Today it is as if everyone is trying to under-dress everyone else.

I feel sorry for Mike Romanoff, but even sorer for the women of America who have gradually, without realizing it, given up their right to be ushered proudly into grand entrances, bought corsages, adored across a crowded room and urged to stay "just the way you look tonight. You just don't get that kind of respectful treatment in a sweater and skirt—don't care if they ARE cashmere!" We have traded in our girdles for comfort, and our shimmer for chic, and our birthright for a bowl of potato sacks. Its cut down our dry-cleaning bills, but also our femininity.

How did the don't-dress trend start? Obviously, men had nothing to do with it. Most men never did like to formal-up (I can remember my dad observing, "what—the soup and fish again?"), and if by some rare chance they did enjoy an occasional fiesta in full dress they didn't admit it because Americans are brought up to eye with suspicion and vague contempt any male who cares about his dress.

So it must have been the women, themselves, who cut off their posies to spite their race.

Women, with the help of fashion designers introduced short evening dresses, the trend couldn't help but start. So comfortable, so convenient. Later, the dress manufacturers tried desperately to sweep

Mental Health Teamwork Is Working Well

EDITOR'S NOTE — Doctors, clergymen, teachers and community workers are combining forces today to help those who suffer mental affliction and emotional distress. It's a far cry from former days when the mental patient was shunned as a social outcast. Here, in the fourth of five special articles, is the story of this joint attempt to prevent emotional trouble before it starts.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Along the highways to the Menninger Foundation are coming clergymen, businessmen, doctors, lawyers, teachers, community leaders.

Their notably common goal — the prevention of mental illness with its incalculable human suffering.

"The exciting thing is to help people before they become ill," says Dr. William Menninger, a big, relaxed man who with his brother, Karl, is among the pioneers in psychiatric care who have helped change state mental hospitals from keepers of the ill to effective treatment centers.

Mental illness begins or is aggravated in the home, the school, on the job, in many situations. Life can begin going sour in hundreds of ways—for the woman feeling useless after her children leaves home, the man failing of his dreams, the child feeling inadequate to parental expectations and demands.

There are not enough psychiatrists and psychologists for troubled persons to turn to. Many physicians give such aid, and half the people going to family doctors do so because of symptoms arising from psychological causes. Psychiatric education of the general physician is a major program of the American Psychiatric Association.

Community leaders could become a small army of men and women giving counsel to help solve emotional problems.

Some already know intuitively how to advise the emotionally troubled, says Dr. Joseph Satten, director of the Menninger Foundation's social psychiatry department, stressing research on prevention.

Others can give an understanding of some scientific principles, the ABC with which to recognize problems, to counsel people, to prevent situations from becoming worse, to suggest helpful courses of action in a useful way.

What happens to people at work can powerfully influence mental health, explains Dr. Harry Levinson, also, since 1960, top business executives have been coming to the foundation for special week-long seminars to "learn" what makes people tick.

Why does a top salesman fail as a desk-bound executive? Why do seemingly successful men turn to alcoholism, or threaten suicide? What makes employees angry or frustrated?

By one estimate, 80 to 90 per cent of emotional problems seen on the job among employees arise in their home life.

The objective is to teach business leaders how, to listen, to know how humans feel, Dr. Levinson adds. And, since top men have emotions also, how to maintain their own balance.

One survey finds that 42 per cent of people turn first to their ministers or pastors when emotional troubles begin to take a toll. Appropriate training for future clergymen is sponsored by the National Institute of Mental Health at Loyola University in Chicago, Yeshiva University in New York, and at Harvard Divinity School.

Thousands of school children run into serious emotional problems. The nervous, tyrannical, and lackadaisical child can be reflecting emotional and family problems.

Dr. Edward Greenwood heads a program in which Topeka schools, teachers, psychiatrists and psychologists join hands in counseling to detect troublesome find causes and remedies. Invariably this involves voluntary consultations with parents, who may unwittingly be triggering the child's reactions.

"Being a good parent is one of the most difficult tasks of all," Dr. Greenwood remarks sympathetically. This teamwork approach for children reaches into elementary and junior high schools.

Growing old brings on other stresses, and a new retirement—and—geriatrics clinic under Dr. Prescott Thompson now is treat-

Stock Sale Receipt to Be Required

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Legislative Council committee on corporations, insurance and banking approved Tuesday a proposal requiring security salesmen to issue a receipt on sale of any stock.

The committee members said they felt some Arkansans had been misled in the purchase of stocks and that receipts would enable them to know what they had purchased. The receipts, which under the proposal would have to be retained on file by the salesmen for two years, would also serve as a record of transactions, the committee said.

The recommendation is to be presented to the Legislative Council. In other action, the committee recommended that every prospective buyer of stock be shown a prospectus—a description of the stock involved. State law now requires the showing of a prospectus at the initial issue of the securities.

The committee also recommended change of a section of the security laws reading that the state Security Commission "may examine" the financial condition of mortgage loan companies. State Security Commissioner Clinton Jones said the law reads as though the commission is not required to make the examination. The Federal Home Finance Agency and the Veterans Administration, which do business with the mortgage firms, have objected to the inspections and suggested the wording change, Jones said.

Among many East African tribes, which prize cattle highly the highest compliment a swain can pay to his maiden is to imply that she is bovine.

1962 Not One of World's Best Years

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—This was not one of the splendid years. Neither optimists nor pessimists had much to crow about. It had some horrible moments, some flashing ones.
It was a year of incredible stupidity when the Russians thought they could get away with putting missiles in Cuba.
It was a year of at least one fierce and sturdy decision—when President Kennedy forced the Russians to remove the missiles.

It was a savage and bloody year—war in Viet Nam, the Red Chinese invasion of India, assassinations in Algeria.
It was a year racism wore one of its ugliest faces—when James H. Meredith, a Negro, got into all-white University of Mississippi only after bloody rioting, two men's deaths and use of the full force of government.
It was a year of few solutions—there were none in Viet Nam, Berlin, the Congo, all major trouble spots for years.
It was, like others, a year of empty jaw-jaw — East and West did nuclear testing while fruitlessly talking disarmament and a ban on testing.

It was even a full political year — after the November elections the number of Democrats and Republicans in office remained pretty much the same.
It was a year of at least one political disaster—defeated Richard M. Nixon apparently passed into political oblivion.
It was a year of a few brilliant moments—when astronauts American and Russian, sailed the sky but Russia, with its space twins, stayed ahead.
But it was also a year of unforgettable clash—when Kennedy forced the steel industry to drop its price increase.
It was a year the stock market frightened the nation again — in May a one-day drop was the worst since 1929. Later the market straightened out.
It was the year when the summit slid into the valley—Premier Khrushchev talked it up, but this week Kennedy saw no use in a summit meeting soon.
It was also a year of one great possibility—that Russia, after its horrifying Cuban experience, may be easier to live with. Kennedy doesn't predict it.
Out of Cuba the Russians learned, at least, the United States can be tough to the point of war. This may make them more careful. It doesn't mean it changed them. They may be far tougher in a new crisis closer to home.
The United States couldn't claim much progress in saving, with men and supplies, Viet Nam from the Communists. But the Communists couldn't claim they had made much progress trying to gobble it up.
The Red Chinese invasion of India is still a mystery since they pulled back. It may have been a costly blunder. It would be if it drove India into the Western camp that hasn't happened yet.
As for the Congo—the trouble

Russia, China Further Apart

LONDON (AP) — Information reaching London today indicated a further widening of the split between the Soviet Union and Communist China.
The Soviet trade mission in Shanghai is pulling out, according to these accounts. Members of the mission have been packing their files and personal belongings for several days. Presumably there soon will be no Soviet representation left in the great Chinese port city.
Earlier the Chinese Communist authorities closed the Soviet consulates in Shanghai and Harbin.

Christmas Business Is Reported Up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The jolly tinkling of cash registers is preceding the annual visit of old St. Nicholas this year, much to the delight of Arkansas businessmen.
Merchants around the state are rushed to keep shelves filled in a record pre-Christmas rush for merchandise. Sales increase of up to 38 per cent have been reported.
Farmers have harvested one of their largest and best crops in recent years, several new industries have come to the state during the past 12 months, the wages of the state's labor force have been increased and there are less people out of work, according to a survey of the Arkansas Chamber of Commerce.
Funds put into the state under the government's Area Redevelopment Plan have helped too.
Ben Murphy, president of the Pine Bluff Downtown Retail Merchants Association, estimates that business in his city is up five to 10 per cent over last year. Sales are from "good to excellent" in almost every sales category.
Jada McGuire, manager of the Blytheville Chamber of Commerce credits higher industrial employment, good crops and an increase in population as the primary incentive for a buying spree that has sent pre-Christmas sales up three to four per cent over the record $3 million reported last year.
And Mayor Jimmie Edwards, a furniture store owner, says area industries have a higher rate of employment than ever before.
Not only are Arkansans spending more, the report show, but they are buying more expensive items.
Jewelry, expensive coats, suits and other luxury item sales are up as much as 25 per cent in some areas of the state.
"Competitively priced items are not quite as popular as they were last year," one store manager commented. Apparently the buyers are looking for quality.
This search is also reflected in the purchase of automobiles. Sales are up by as much as 20 per cent as auto dealers are recording their best season in the past seven years.

Moreover, a large portion of the sales are of top-of-the-line models loaded with optional equipment.
Even the weather has been helpful.
Last week temperatures skidded to zero in the northern part of the state and the southern half shivered under below freezing weather. But the cold didn't keep buyers out of the stores.
This week the weather has thus far been near perfect for shopping trips, though some rain has been forecast for today.
The cold weather apparently caused increased sales in clothing, particularly in outer garments and sportswear. Sales of stoves, electric blankets and other cold-weather items also picked up.
Expensive appliances and furniture are also reported moving well. Variety stores have reported a record business with increases of five to 10 per cent over 1961 sales.
A good portion of the business seems to be on a cash basis. Bankers report there is more cash available in the state this year and that check clearings indicate quite active business in Arkansas. Money, they said, appears to be changing hands at a more rapid rate—another indication of a business boom.
The principal goolmy spot in the otherwise rosy pre-Christmas sales picture was in the hardware business.
An El Dorado hardware store owner said his sales were down 15 per cent from last year and that less expensive items were being bought.

While variety and department stores at Pocahontas, like their counterparts in other sections of Arkansas, were doing good business, sales in furniture stores, appliance stores and wholesale outlets had dropped.
Normal inventory levels were reported by most sections of the state, though some had under estimated the demand of buyers.
A Chamber of Commerce survey showed that collections were good, with only a few firms reporting slow accounts.
Arkansas is more fortunate this year than other states, the chamber survey revealed. Exceptionally warm weather followed by blizzards, then labor disputes and other factors contributed to slacken Yuletide buying power and desires.

Financially, the state appears to have a "Happy New Year" in the offing too.
Contractors and architects say they have contracts, bids, plans on the board and announcements sufficient to guarantee a big volume of industrial and commercial construction in Arkansas.
Few could foresee any appreciable decrease in this phase of business in the year ahead.

Union Official Is Suspended

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Executive Board of the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers today suspended the union's secretary-treasurer, Al Hartnett, climaxing his long feud with IUE President James B. Carey.
The board resolution provided that Hartnett would continue to receive his $22,500 annual salary if he refrains from any conduct calculated to bring the IUE into disrepute or to promote dissension within the membership of the IUE.
that seemed to have quieted down by last year's end is bubbling up at this year's end. This can be real nasty. Russia let the heat on Berlin cool down in 1962. It's still fairly cool.
It's now 17 years since World War II. Russia and the West seem no nearer agreement to disarmament than they did then. As for a ban on nuclear testing—the two sides are still waltzing like a couple of flatfoots.

France Making Payment to U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the third time this year, France is making an advance payment on its debt to this country. The latest payment, announced today by the U.S. government, amounts to $116.6 million due between 1967 and 1970.

UN Accepts Opinion All Must Share

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly has voted to accept a World Court opinion that the U.N. Congo and Middle East peacekeeping operations are expenses that must be shared by all members. The Soviet Union and France were among those opposing the measure.

The action came after the assembly's 110-nation Budgetary Committee approved Secretary-General U Thant's request to extend his spending powers for the Congo and Middle East operations until June 30.

Thant was authorized to spend up to $10 million a month for the U.N. Congo force and $1.58 million a month for the Middle East operations.

The U.N. forces are operating in the Congo to preserve order in the face of a split between the Leopoldville central government and the province of Katanga.

Treasury Raids Amusement Places

WASHINGTON (AP)—Treasury agents swept into scores of bars, rooms and amusement places across the country today in a coordinated grab of payoff pinball machines that lacked federal gambling stamps.

A spokesman for the Internal Revenue Service said the move was aimed at seizing several hundred machines the government has branded illegal because of failure of the operators to acquire a $250 stamp.

Reports came early in the afternoon of seizures in Richmond and nine other Virginia cities; Illinois and other places.

An Internal Revenue Service official said this was the first such coordinated pounce on the pinball machines adapted for payoffs. He said it was based on a federal court decision in Kansas last April which had the effect of upholding an IRS regulation declaring the mere existence of such devices without a $250 stamp violated the law.

which has succeeded.

Overhaul of the Ranger Program

By VERN HAUGLAND in WASHINGTON (AP)—The space agency started a major overhaul of its trouble-plagued Ranger moon rocket program today.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration acknowledged that the action might delay its vital lunar research program—preparatory to manned landings on the moon—by several months.

But NASA said that the change should vastly improve the chances of success in obtaining the first close-at-hand television pictures of the moon, and of depositing on the moon instruments to measure moonquakes and to give clues of the moon's geology.

Information of this type is absolutely essential before the first man can dare venture onto the moon—hopefully by the end of the decade.

The space agency already has let contracts for construction of the three-manpollo spacecraft that will orbit the moon, and the two-man capsules that will be detached to carry Apollo crews to the moon and back to their orbiting vehicles.

The agency has been increasingly concerned over the continued failure of the multimillion-dollar Ranger program.

Five Ranger vehicles have been launched.

The first two were engineering test vehicles that met with only limited success.

The three others were equipped to photograph the moon with television cameras and to send this data back to earth.

Only one of these hit the moon, and it failed to send back any information. Two others missed the moon and apparently went into orbit around the sun.

The failure to achieve Ranger test goals has been charged primarily to the Jet Propulsion Laboratory of the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena, which has had major responsibility for this program.

Under the space agency's requirement that its key men produce or get out of positions of responsibility, the agency already has reassigned some of the jet lab scientists. Further changes of top personnel are considered in prospect.

Arkansas communities have the following Biblical names: Poinsett, Jericho, Jerusalem, Damascus, Gethsemane, Mount Olive and Antioch.

Kennedy TV Show Puts Him at Best

By JAMES MARLOW Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's latest technique for getting his ideas across to the public—and himself as a leader—looks like his best.

This was his television-radio discussion with three reporters this week in his White House office. Until now he has relied mostly on speeches and news conferences with masses of reporters.

His most famous speech was his inaugural address Jan. 20, 1961. This was the one where he urged Americans not to ask what their country could do for them but what they could do for their country.

This speech, like a number of his others, was a highly manufactured product. It showed a literary self-consciousness with its overdone use of contrasts. No one could doubt it had been worked on hard.

Just because it did, the speech lacked that priceless and easy

Approves Changes in Ownership

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Public Service Commission approved changes in ownership of two small telephone companies in Bradley County Wednesday.

Purchase, by the Hampton Telephone Company of the Banks Telephone for $3,750 Company and the Ingalls Telephone Company for $5,000 was authorized.

The PSC also authorized Hampton to borrow up to $870,000 from the Rural Electrification Administration, at two per cent interest, to provide for installation of dial service and modernization of its system in rural areas.

The firm proposes to raise the rate for business multi-party lines from $5.50 to $6 and residential multi-party rates from $4 to $4.50 in rural areas outside Hampton, Hermitage and Banks.

The increases are to be effective at the installation of dial equipment.

Housing Loan to Poinsett County

WASHINGTON (AP)—A loan of $1,200 to help Poinsett County build six low-rent homes, two for the elderly, was approved Tuesday by the Public Housing Administration. The homes will be built in the Fisher community.

sense of communication which comes with informality. Except for masterpieces, this could be said about anyone's speeches.

Kennedy's news conferences have been far from total successes. They last 30 minutes. The very sight of reporters, swarms of them, hopping up and down to ask questions is distracting for anyone watching them on television.

Sometimes some of the questions look like deliberate needles. Some have started off with a "Mr. President, don't you think . . ." which indicates the questioner is not asking for information but confirmation.

And some of the questions have a special or regional interest which make for dull listening. Kennedy at these conferences looks on guard and unrelaxed. There's an obvious reason for this:

If he makes a mistake, and in an off-moment he could commit a serious one, there's no time to correct it since the public is watching and listening as he answers.

These news conferences are a healthy force in American society. But they are far from smooth and the answers are often far from satisfactory.

He seemed more comfortable and responsive Monday night in his hour-long discussion with just three reporters sitting with him in the White House. He seemed to feel, with just three people questioning him only on matters of general interest, that he could take time and answer at length. From a theatrical standpoint the discussion gave the impression of the President sitting in everybody's living room and talking frankly and freely about problems which concern him and everybody.

Even his political opponents thought he did a standout job. One of them, Rep. Clarence J. Brown, Ohio Republican, said "It was the cleverest political public relations job I have ever seen. The President handled himself very ably!"

And the Republican National Committee announced it will ask the networks which carried the discussion for a similar arrangement later to get across the Republican viewpoint.

Whether Kennedy's success with the discussion technique—and a very limited number of reporters—will affect his method of handling news conferences remains to be seen. It may lead to some television cameras.

subtle changes, at least. These news conferences have grown, and changed, tremendously since the days of Presidents Roosevelt and Truman. They used to hold them in the White House in limited quarters. Reporters stood around the President's desk. The Presidents' answers at these conferences, which were not televised, could not be quoted directly except occasionally and then only in the case of some specific answer.

Kennedy holds his conferences in the big auditorium of the new State Department building. Far more reporters show up than even went to Roosevelt, Truman or Eisenhower conferences.

And every word the President says can be quoted directly at once, as would have to be the case when it's all done before live television cameras.

A Few Facts of Life in Arkansas

Gov. Orval E. Faubus remarked at a news conference recently he might not go to the Sugar Bowl to see Arkansas play Mississippi. Faubus said he expected to be a grandfather around New Years Day and wanted to be near home when the big event came.

A day or so later Arnold Sikes, the governor's executive aide, got a telephone call from Blake Browning, a Conway salesman, who ardently supports the Razorbacks. He wanted Faubus' room and tickets in New Orleans. He didn't get them, of course.

An appeal by the Jonesboro Elks club for the hides of deer, to be processed for use at the state Children's Colony, has been more successful than predicted.

Ralph Stricklin, Elks ruler, said so far 9' hides have been brought in and there is another season yet to go. The Elks club is paying the cost of tanning the hides and shipping them to the colony.

the fat man said with his look juning jumpily into the glack. "We better git whackin'!"

There was a whole heap of things Rafe was aching to know, but so long as he kept his eyes skinned and one fist wrapped about the handle of his shooter he reckoned it wouldn't hurt to ride a spell with this john.

When Brownwater pulled up to blow the horses Rafe had belted his pistol, and had both hands in his pockets trying to thaw out the cramps.

The fat man had his fists in plain sight, piled atop the horn of his saddle like they were hostages for good conduct. There wasn't anything to be heard but the wind, no thud of hoof pound, no whisper of shouts.

"Where are we?" Rafe asked.

"Gourd and Vine. About four miles due north of headquarters. Figgered you'd be wantin' to auger some with your paw."

Rafe's brows squeezed down. "You hopin' to run me into a jackpot?"

"That bunch won't be along fer a while—"

"Says you!" Rafe jeered, and set the good hand to reaching back for his pistol.

The fat man sighed. "If I'd wanted you flattened would I of helped you git clear?"

MAN ON THE SKEWBALD MARE

By Nelson C. Nye

Gasping, Rafe Bender got all his strength together, bracing his transparent pictures of the state bird, the state flower and the state tree.

An encyclopedia wants to use pictures of the three in a section on Arkansas, and state files do not have color transparencies of them. He's asked various agencies around the state to scout for them and invites anyone to mail 35 millimeter or larger pictures. They will be returned, he said.

A Batesville man spotted this sign on a pickup truck at Newport:

Arkansas soybean farmers might find a new use for their product, if they follow an Indonesian way of preparing it.

are you?"

"Just one of the Bills. You can call me 'Brownwater'—everyone else does."

Now that he was up near enough to make out things, Rafe could see by the way he spread over his saddle the feller had enough extra fat hanging on him to do a whole tribe of Papagos half the winter. He looked mighty near big as Bunny's pa, Pike, and had a mottled appearance like he'd got in the way of an upended paint bucket—freckles, probably. He had a chaw in one cheek and a wheeze to his voice and seemed altogether as unfit for the part he claimed to have played as a two-legged dog in a three-ring circus.

Rafe said suspicious: "How'd you get into this?"

"It's kind of a long story. I'm Lury's beau. Was, anyways, till that brother of yours—"

"How'd you know I had any brother?"

Brownwater grinned. You could tell by the shine of his teeth. "I was in that harness room back of the trees when you was tryin' that day to git the prodigal's hug an' Duke kept—"

"If you was there," Rafe growled, "tell me who got the paper."

"Duke grabbed it out of the Old Man's hand just before Spangler bended that gun over your head," feet, and whirled, the flying legs of the man on his back clearing a path. The man's strangling grip broke loose and he was gone.

But so also was mist of Rafe's strength. His knees began to wobble. Fists beat against his body and he reeled through a kind of red fog sprung from nausea. Blows seemed to rain on him from every direction.

He got the six-shooter out of the waistband of his trousers and slashed its barrel across the nearest face, laying it open from jaw to ear. The flames threw back the lifting wink of metal in several other fists but, with so many of their fellows in such close proximity, no one it seemed wanted to fire the first shot.

Rafe, on his knees, had no such scruples. His pistol barked and, somebody yelled. He fired again and a man, twisted half around, went down with both hands clapped to his neck. Another gun went off, another man collapsed. Rafe dove into the welter of kicking, plunging horses, managing to nab one that had stepped on its reins.

Lead sang over his head as he tore off the bridle and hurled himself up. The ponicked horse was going full stride before ever Rafe's leg settled over the saddle.

With an arm round its neck he yelled in its ear like a half-crocked Apache. The ground flew past, the wind whipped off his hat, the shouting gunpierced racket of Duke's crew was left behind.

When Rafe got back enough wind and nerve to risk straightening up and having a look at his situation he must have been at least two miles north of the rim.

He got his mount stopped and while the horse blew, took a long edgy squint at his hacktail. The star-filled night loomed vast and empty. Then a voice said, seemingly right at his elbow: "Reckon I've growed enough gray hairs for both of us"

Rafe cam' around. The feller's dark shape wasn't a rope's throw away. He had his hands shoulder high and, though his huckle was nervous, both of them looked empty.

"You won't need the artillery. I'm the jigger that helped you bust loose," he said when Rafe made no move to put up his pistol. "You sure didn't figure you done that all by yourself?"

Rafe, kneeling the captured horse in closer, growled: "Who

Space Profit Being Passed to Business

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. Charles Kimball of the Midwest Research Institute said Tuesday discoveries, inventions, patents and new concepts uncovered in the nation's space program are being relayed to businessmen for peaceful purposes.

Kimball told delegates to a one-day meeting at the Arkansas Power and Light Co. building in Little Rock Arkansas business people can pluck direct, tangible and immediate economic benefits from space research.

The meeting at which Kimball appeared is one of 16 to be held in the midwestern states.

A new program, called Applied Space Technology — Regional Advancement (ASTRA)—was set up in November by the National Aeronautics and Space Agency (NASA) for the purpose of translating scientific space findings into practical forms for industrial use.

Kimball said "We cannot expect another opportunity like space technology to come in our lifetimes. We had better make use of

Tranquilizers Are Big Help To Health

EDITOR'S NOTE—Drugs have proven useful treatments for various mental illnesses. Here is an up-to-date report on their effectiveness and on the controversial evidence that much mental illness may stem from faulty body chemistry and not traumatic psychological situations. Third in a series of five special reports on mental health.

NEW YORK AP—"The devil still talks to me," she said, "but I don't bother to holler back." Thus did a tranquilizer drug bring one woman a ticket back toward mental health. From then on, she could cooperate with psychiatrists to work out an understanding of her emotional illness. The "mood drugs," such as tranquilizers to calm excited minds and psychic stimulants to combat depression, are part of an exciting chemical era in mental illness. There are two great objectives. One is to develop far more effective drugs for various types of mental illness.

JFK's Father Much Better Since Stroke

By FRANCIS LEWINE
PALM BEACH Fla. (AP)—Joseph P. Kennedy, the President's father, who suffered a paralyzing stroke a year ago today, is reported making continuing gains in a slow rehabilitation process. He may even be back in his self appointed role of family airport greeter when the President arrives from the Bahamas Thursday for a Christmastime family gathering.

It is a far happier atmosphere for the Kennedys than the days last year when the elder Kennedy lay stricken at St. Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach. Medical sources, although reluctant to evaluate the 74-year-old Kennedy's condition, say he has made encouraging improvement. He is said to have regained some speech—though far from conversation—and can walk with the aid

Car, Train Hit, Negro Killed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Public Service Commission was asked Wednesday to approve plans of six Arkansas water companies to refinance their debts. The outstanding loans of the firms, each a subsidiary of the General Waterworks Corporation of Philadelphia, Pa., expire Dec. 31. The money would be borrowed from the parent company at 5 1/2 per cent annual interest. The firms and the amount of new debts are: Russellville Water Company $550,000; Hamburg Water Company, $128,000; England, $71,000; Fordyce $178,000; Rison, $30,000 and Morrilton, $299,000.

Loan Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—A loan of $505,000 to the Liberty Telephone Co. of Mountain Home was approved Wednesday by the Rural Electrification Administration. It was the second of two loans to the firm, which totaled $1,101,000. The loans will be used to provide 523 miles of new lines, new office buildings in Calico Rock and Melbourne and new dial offices in Oxford, Franklin and Mount Pleasant in Izard County.

The other is increasing, if controversial, evidence that much mental illness may stem from faulty body chemistry. If specific chemical errors could be pinpointed, they probably could be corrected to prevent or cure mental illness, much as vitamin C combats scurvy. Psychiatrists are divided over prospects of such chemical controls. Tranquilizers, coming on the scene about eight years ago, and antidepressants, are having tremendous impact. Men and women sick for months or years have described the mental effects as the lifting of a curtain or cloud, or brightening of a dark room. Drugs have provided a bridge to home for many thousands of men and women. Many continue taking them.

Women Play Key Role in Cuba Today

EDITOR'S NOTE—The writer of this article was an Associated Press correspondent in Havana for 29 months and was jailed there for three weeks under the Castro regime. He now is an AP roving correspondent in Latin America, and has been on special assignment in Key West.

By ROBERT BERRILLEZ
KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Under Castro automation, goes a Cuban witicism, the laboring man has been replaced by women. Cuban radio and television programs monitored here tend to accentuate that observation. Day in and out, the Cuban stations monotonously drone out the revolutionary achievements of "our women's brigades" and "our exemplary Cuban woman" toiling away "voluntarily" in coffee, cotton and sugar fields.

Starting next year some women will be carrying credentials as crew members on Cuban merchant ships. Men work, of course, and they get their share of accolades. But to hear Havana radio tell it, Cuban workers spend large portions of their time attending meetings to "discuss production goals" or study "cultural draft projects."

The radio-television broadcasts, easily seen and heard here, 93 miles from Havana, provide an excellent electronic peephole for a limited look at Cuba.

What is a radio-television view of Cuba like these days? To one who had a Havana ring-side seat on Castro and the post-revolution for 29 months, an immediate reaction is: "Where is Fidel?"

Two years ago, it would have been rank heresy, if not counter-revolutionary, to leave Castro out of the picture if he were anywhere near a television program. But that was done recently when resident Osvaldo Dorticos spoke at a funeral service. Viewers got only the briefs look at Castro's back as he rushed away after the ceremony with only a brisk wave to Dorticos.

Two years ago, such an omission would have started speculation on Castro's health or his position in the hierarchy. There are other signs the original revolutionaries are being edged from the spotlight by the new Marxist-Leninist set. There were no special radio or television programs to mark the anniversary of Castro's Dec. 2, 1956, invasion that led eventually to the overthrow of dictator Fulgencio Batista. Commentators handled the event in routine fashion, con-

President's Call Gets Some Result

CHICAGO (AP)—President Kennedy's call for a truce in the battle for amateur sports control apparently bore fruit today when a full field of invited athletes gathered for a track meet mutually sanctioned by the rival groups. The occasion is the University of Chicago Track Club's 10th Holiday track and field meet. It is the first ever to bear joint sanction of the erstwhile warring AAU competing in the afternoon and night events are 191 college, high school and "open" track athletes. The field includes former collegiate stars and a number of current college stars home for the Christmas holidays.

The Central AAU has sanctioned the University of Chicago indoor meet since its inception but this is the first time it has had official approval of the NCAA-backed federation.

Ted Haydon, Maroon track coach and meet director, said he sought a federation permit, not as a challenge of the AAU's "sole authority" to sanction open competition, but because he recognized the federation's right to regulate athletes of its members. The members are mainly colleges and high schools.

The Central AAU said earlier this week that the meet will be conducted under "all rules" and regulations of the AAU. It said it regarded the federation's sanction as "an internal college matter" between the University of Chicago and the NCAA.

President Kennedy told a news conference last week that he was alarmed over the 2 1/2-year feud between the AAU and the federation because it might kill U.S. chances in the 1963 Pan-American Games and 1964 Olympics.

Many to the hoopla of other years. Anti-Americanism remains the big hard-sell item on both radio and television. Anti-Castro. Cuban raiders are always identified as "brutal CIA agents." Cubans felled by counter-revolutionaries were victims of "Yankee imperialist agents."

The way it comes over radio and television now, the revolutionary litany has a hollow mechanical ring; it lacks the old sound and fury of deep-down conviction.

Says a Cuban exile: "They're tired and, besides that, they've used up the entire dictionary of scurrilous abuse. There's really nothing left to say."

Dancer Is Getting a 2nd Chance

By BOB THOAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It's not many performers who get a second chance to raise $20,000 for down chance for the second time payment on a house she and her around. That's why I'm having lay. She played six weeks at the London Palladium and in Scotland, then quit entirely.

This was Eleanor Powell at 50 sitting on top of a whole new career. The night after Christmas, she will make her television dancing debut with Perry Como. She is drawing top salaries in Las Vegas and other show spots. And she is planning a concert tour that will take her through the United States and Europe.

Not had for a star who didn't dance for 14 years.

"It's the greatest feeling in the world to be able to come back and find an audience still waiting," she said. "I thought they would have forgotten by now."

"But they haven't. They seem to have an emotional response to what I have done. When I finish my act and go around the tables shaking hands, many of them are crying. It's the same way with other performers who came back to stage to see me. Some of them are so emotional they can't speak. They seem to be glad that it made it back."

The Eleanor Powell story would indicate that stars never fade. Hailed as the greatest female tap dancer, she was a hit on Broadway and then starred in a string of glittering MGM musicals such as "Born to Dance," "Rosalia," and the "Broadway Melodies" of 1936-37-38.

After the birth of their son, Peter, she worked only once — in 1947 to raise $20,000 for down chance for the second time payment on a house she and her around. That's why I'm having lay. She played six weeks at the London Palladium and in Scotland, then quit entirely.

Then two years ago her marriage broke up.

"It was Christmas time and I was pretty shaken up," she said. "Peter suggested that we get out of town for Christmas. He thought we might go up to Las Vegas. They saw every show in town. At each show the stars introduced Eleanor from the audience as one of the show business greats. Pearl Bailey got her up onstage for a few taps. Later she told Peter that it was his duty to see that his mother returned to performing."

Agged on by her son, Eleanor underwent nine months of intensive tap and ballet lessons, dropped from 149 pounds to a svelte 122. When she returned to Las Vegas, she went in triumph. "I'm dancing better than I ever did before," she says, and she intends to go on doing so.

Pinball Machines Are Confiscated

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Internal Revenue Service agents confiscated a payoff pinball machine in a cafe seven miles west of Little Rock today as part of a nationally coordinated drive to grab gambling machines that lack federal gambling stamps.

IRS agents said even raids were planned in the Little Rock area. Newsmen were taken with IRS agents on the raids.

No arrests were made at the cafe, the first place hit.

Lewis W. Elkins, senior special agent, said the purpose of the raids is to see that federal gaming stamps are bought.

All machines seized in the nationwide raids were pinball machines with provisions for changing the odds.

An amusement stamp tax of $10 per year has been paid on the machines but a federal gaming stamp costing $250 must be paid.
